

Acoustic Sincerity One (1)

1. Hallelujah Praise the Lord (Psalm 150, NIV)

Kenneth E. Robertson (with a bit of lyrical assistance from David, King of Israel)

Liner Notes

The Psalm, but with, like, music. Join in, clap your hands, tap your feet, dance in the aisles if you prefer. King David certainly did. .

Story

One day I was meditating on this Psalm. This Psalm is one of my favorites, and the tune just rolled out of the guitar, and soon it was a song. Maybe it's not the way King David sang it...so I look forward to hearing his version someday.

By the way, did you know King David got reprimanded (chewed out) by Michal, his wife (Saul's daughter) one time for dancing, all because he was happy that the Ark of the Covenant had been returned to Jerusalem (see II Samuel Chapter 6)? Either she was a hard case, or maybe he wasn't much of a dancer. It's all good for us, though, because he returned to his first love, that of singer/songwriter, and now we have the Psalms. Pretty cool, eh?

Lyrics

Hallelujah! Praise the Lord!

In His sanctuary

Hallelujah! Praise the Lord!

In His mighty heavens

Hallelujah! Praise the Lord!

For His acts of power

Hallelujah! Praise the Lord!

For His surpassing greatness

Praise Him with the sound of the trumpet
Praise Him with the harp and lyre
Praise Him with the tambourine and dancing
Praise Him with the strings and flute
Praise Him with the clash of cymbals
Praise Him with the resounding cymbals
Let everything that has breath praise the Lord
